WELCOME TO RYT 2023

It feels great to be writing a program welcome for the second time! I know so much more about our community and its needs than I did a year ago. So welcome! Welcome to a big, bold, colourful 2023.

In 2022, our team grew. The addition of four new roles has restructured our company, diversified our offerings and placed our core values front and centre.

Our Community and Digital Artist (a position funded by Variety SA), Alysha, runs a robust digital program as well as Home Turf, a school holiday program offered in Pinnaroo, Lameroo, Blanchetown and Morgan – towns often left out of creative programs. At the heart of Alysha's role is RYT's commitment to creating pathways for young regional people to find Their People and their passions.

1-2-1 Coordinator/Games Master, Jay, has brought to the fore our passion for one-on-one work to support children with complex social needs. We know that 'family friendly' does not necessarily mean 'friendly for all families'. With this role, we are working to make RYT a radically accessible safe space for neurodiverse children, those living with disabilities and carers.

Tech Wizard/Take It Apart Club Captain, Melanie, comes up with a new idea every day: what about green screen? VR? Resin art or 3D printers? Mel's tech brain brings such a different kind of creativity to our team. We will offer a diverse and innovative program, guided by the passions, curiosities and needs of children.

Our venue technician, Alex, is working to maintain our beautiful home, The Renmark Institute, and make it a more functional space for our community to use. We are passionate about facilitating collaboration with our local community and champion regional arts and towns.

If it is local, if it is joyful, if it is creative, if it empowers our community and makes the world less lonely and more accessible, we love it.

So welcome to 2023. Keep telling us what you want, need and love and we'll keep making good things happen. Thank you for trusting us with your kids and helping us keep the Riverland accessible, fun and creative.

With gratitude,

Fleur Kilpatrick
Artistic Director

RIVERLAND
YOUTH THEATRE

WHO WE ARE, TODAY

For 37 years Riverland Youth Theatre has been making art with and for our community, empowering children and young people as artists, learners and doers.

Our artistic program includes:

- Weekly classes for ages 0-26 throughout the Riverland
- Online creative classes for children who cannot access our program in person
- Professional development for artists & educators
- School holiday programs
- Special projects
- Opportunities for parents/carers to interact creatively with their children

In addition to artistic and creative opportunities, our tiny company provides well-being programs for vulnerable young people including the following:

- '3rd Place': offering times for young people and adults to come together in our space without expectations or structured lessons
- Pondi: our fortnightly Aboriginal Youth Group
- 1-2-1: mentoring, art and play for children and young people who thrive outside of group settings
- In 2023 we will also be offering Art Therapy in collaboration with Relationships Australia and our Tool Kits with Relationships Australia, Headspace Berri, Carers SA and the Suicide Prevention Network

Riverland Youth Theatre stands on the lands of the First Peoples of the River Murray and Mallee. Our staff and board pay our respects to the Elders both past, present and emerging of the Ngintait, Nganguruku, Erawirung, Ngawait, Ngarkat, Ngarlata and Ngaiwang peoples.

We want to make allies easier to spot in your school. Queer students will come together to discuss what makes a good ally, how school communities could best support them and to create the Ally Awards: a celebration of bravery and allyship in regional schools.

Let's amplify best practice and tell the community what makes schools safe.

"It will make it easier for queer students to come forward and talk about some of their problems or questions without having to deal with the anxieties of trying to guess if the teacher is a safe person to talk to." - Rowen

COOK UP COOKING YOUR WAY

We're making a Youtube Cooking Show! With artist and chef, Jess Weidenhofer, RYT is setting out to create a new show all about cooking with disabilities. How do you grate cheese with only one arm that does what it's told? Or beat eggs with tics? What if you have sensory aversions to 'squishy' foods or if you're only eating foods of a certain colour?

Each episode, Chef Jess will cook with different neurodiverse or disabled guests to make food that work for them!

Filming in the July School Holidays, if you have a complex relationship with food or love it and wish it loved you, get involved!

PS: The call is coming from inside the house. The staff here at RYT are neurospicy and we are a proudly accessible workplace. Most of our team came to us through disability employment pathways. We love that.

1-2-1 CLASSES JUST FOR YOU

We are always looking for ways to make our programs more accessible for everyone. This year, we are offering one-to-one versions of RYT's classes/workshops and hangouts. Based on the needs of the individuals, these sessions might be board games with Jay, theatre making with Fleur, play and creation with Jenna, online writing workshops with Alysha, technology with Mel or painting or cooking with Jess. These are all about what works for you.

We are always looking for ways to make our programs more accessible for everyone. All Riverland children and young people deserve access to nurturing creative experiences. As much as these programs are here for fun and connection, they also develop a wide range of skills such as problem-solving, social deduction, critical thinking, literacy and numeracy. All of which is also perfect for meeting a home-schooling curriculum!

For those who are NDIS plan managed we are able to write invoices for you to claim.

ALTERNATIVE PROM

Alternative Prom is for the misfits, outcasts, and queerdos. It's for all those young people (15-26) who feel or have felt excluded from the traditional school celebration; Who couldn't take the person they loved; Who couldn't attend because of poor accessibility; Who were discriminated against; Bullied; Those who don't fit rigid beauty standards and don't ever want to; And for the people who just couldn't afford to go.

November 2023 Riverland Youth Theatre is putting on a night to remember for all the right reasons! And you're formally invited.

There'll be a live entertainment, food, drink, and plenty of fun and games! Invite your friends, plan your fit, grab your aids, fidget toys, and join us on the dance floor.

This night is about inclusivity and celebrating you for who you are right now. (And you are awesome).

THE JUDYS

The Judy's (Named after Her Majesty Judy Garland) is a social and support group for LGBTQIA+ adults! In this space we share, create, celebrate queer joy, eat snacks, have important conversations, and find our community. We also have a whole lot of fun.

This year we are having a go at life-drawing, learning from drag performers, getting crafty for Valentines Gay, playing with board games and VR, and that's just a few of our ideas!

We meet up once a month. Come along to all or just one. We'd love to have you!
